Introduction to Object Detection with Python

Introduction

Michael Chestnut

Data Engineer at PingThings

Adjunct Faculty Member with Georgetown's Data Science Program

LinkedIn: https://www.linkedin.com/in/michael-chestnut
Github: https://github.com/mchestnut91
Email: mc2348@georgetown.edu

Agenda

- Introduce key concepts related to computer vision and object detection

- Demonstrate how to use a pre-trained model to detect objects in images and video streams

- Watch a labeled video stream to see object detection in action

- Discuss limitations and possible next steps for further development